You've made an investment in your home with new heating, cooling or dehumidification equipment. Isn't it worth it to invest in an extra measure of protection?

Century[®]

At Century, we stand behind all our equipment with some of the strongest warranties in the industry.

But as with any product containing mechanical and electronic components, something can go wrong. That's why we offer the AssurancePlus Extended Service Agreements.

The AssurancePlus program gives you an extra measure of protection that extends beyond the standard warranty coverage. It protects you against unexpected problems that require service and/or replacement of parts.

AssurancePlus takes effect on the expiration date of Century's Limited Product Warranty and allows you to extend coverage beyond the original warranty for up to 12 years. There are a variety of plans to choose from, offering parts and labor coverage, parts only or labor only.

AssurancePlus helps you rest easy, assured that your investment in a heating/cooling system is protected and you don't have to worry about unexpected expenses for repairs.
